

Chief, two officers tender resignations

South Bay police troubles go public

SOUTH BAY—An apparently festering state of internal strife in the Police Department went public this week when half of the six-member department turned in resignations, including Chief Calvin Lamb and his second in command.

The disharmony became public knowledge for the first time at the end of the regular city commission meeting when Major Walter Collins and Patrolman Charles J. Ford handed commissioners copies of letters of resignation. Both, however, agreed to hold up a final decision until a meeting could be held.

Collins, Lamb's second in command inherited from the days of Chief Willie Wrisper, said he was resigning in order to accept another position, "that will provide me with increased and a greater possibility for a comfortable working salary."

When Police Commissioner Vernita Cox probed for further reasons, however, Collins said "the real reason" was a "communications gap". He also said money had nothing to do with his decision.

Ford listed five reasons for his resignation; "not enough pay, inner-department relationship, poor working conditions, not enough man power (and) not enough back up units in the department."

Lamb said in a telephone interview Wednesday morning that there was indeed a communications gap. "There was a communications gap because they went to the commission instead of to me."

"But what they don't know," he said, "is that I beat 'em to the punch. I turned in my resignation Monday, effective Friday." Lamb's statement came as a surprise because it hadn't been mentioned during the commission meeting.

Mayor Billy Wells said Wednesday he hadn't known of Collins' and Ford's intentions until they turned in their resignations and hadn't been aware of Lamb's decision until he was unofficially told about it after the meeting by

Hawkins stands up Chamber banquet

BELLE GLADE—Public Service Commission Chairman and Lt. Governor candidate Paula Hawkins, who had a date to speak here tonight at the annual Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet, stood up the Chamber in favor of "other commitments."

Chamber President Dale Stapp said one of Mrs. Hawkins' campaign workers telephoned Chamber Executive Secretary Jewel Crane at 4:30 p.m. Monday to announce Mrs. Hawkins' cancellation.

Stapp and Mrs. Crane tried all day Tuesday to find a replacement speaker and Stapp announced at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday the speakers would be County Commissioner Bill Bailey, who was slated to introduce Mrs. Hawkins, and United States Sugar Corporation Vice President Robert C. Lee, who was named on the banquet programs as the toastmaster.

Mrs. Crane said Tuesday she was informed by Mrs. Hawkins' aide her schedule called for her to be in Miami until noon today, in Tampa this afternoon and in Pensacola from 7 to 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Farm Bureau annual dinner is Saturday

BELLE GLADE—The Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau will hold its annual covered dish banquet at the Glades Correctional Institution Clubhouse at 6 p.m. Saturday, the first time in years the banquet has been held anywhere but at the municipal marina.

High waters at the marina forced the change of location but a decision by the bureau's board of directors ensures the members will have a chance to meet candidates for a number of political offices without the necessity of listening to speeches.

The board of directors looked briefly at the possibility of giving visiting candidates, all of whom have been invited, an opportunity to speak but opted instead for a Country and Western Band.

While the band is playing, the candidates will have a chance to circulate and speak in one-on-one situations.

The GCI Clubhouse is located behind the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building on US441. Members are expected to bring covered dishes and the bureau is going to provide the meat.

This is the only general membership meeting during the year and all Farm Bureau members are invited to attend.

"and there's no way she can be in Belle Glade."

The distaff member of the Eckerd-Hawkins gubernatorial team agreed to speak at the banquet the week after the June 10 Board of Directors meeting.

Stapp said tickets for the banquet were still available Wednesday and would be on sale today at the Chamber building as long as they are available, although he wasn't sure if tickets would be available all day. Tickets are priced at $15.

The annual meeting is only one of the year in which the general membership of the Chamber meets together. The highlight is traditionally the presentation of the Citizen of the Year, the Police Officer of the Year and the Agribusiness Man of the Year awards.

Part of the program will be the installation of new officers and directors. Former County Commissioner E.W. "Bud" Weaver will install tonight the incoming slate of officers and directors.

The officers for the coming year will be President Charles Trammel Jr., First Vice President James M. Gann, Second Vice President Jane Thompson, Treasurer Vernon Dexter and Executive Secretary Jewel A. Crane.

Incoming directors are Gordon Corbin, W. Frank Green, Rupert Mock Jr. and Lynette Thompson. Outgoing directors are Joseph Hughes, John Turnbull, Cecil Conley and Michael Wilson.

Other directors serving out their three year terms are Thomas E. Bonavia, William "Bill" Magill, Dale Stapp, Milton Carpenter and the four officers.

Besides Bailey, Weaver and Lee, other persons on the program include

Candidates answer farmer questionnaire

BELLE GLADE—A total of 13 candidates for the state legislature had answered an 11-question questionnaire last week which had been sent out by the Western Palm Beach County Florida Farm the questionnaires.

The 11 questions, and the answers considered favorable to farmers in the area, were:

1. Do you favor Florida's Green Belt Law? Yes.

2. Do you favor sales tax on feed, seed and fertilizer? No.

3. Do you favor Florida's Right-to-work law? Yes.

4. Do you favor special legislation to aid organization of Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Union in Florida? No.

5. Would you support environmental legislation that would stop backpumping? No.

6. Do you support the Workmen's Compensation reforms passed by the 1978 session of the legislature? Yes.

7. Do you favor a state income tax? No.

8. Do you favor an elected cabinet? Yes.

9. Do you favor casino gambling? No.

10. Do you favor teacher qualification testing, and adult performance level (APL) testing for high school students? Yes.

11. Will you give State Road 80 first priority? Yes.

In the District 26 senate race, both incumbent Harry Johnston II and William Riker answered all 11 questions correctly.

In the District 28 senate race, incumbent Senator Don C. Childers answered all the questions but number five correctly. Childers said he believed the backpumping problem can be worked out and marked it undecided.

Childers' opponent, Republican Billie Brooks, didn't answer the questionnaire.

In the District 78 house race, Ray Liberti answered all the questions correctly except number six, in which he said he doesn't favor the workmen's compensation reform laws.

Liberti's Republican opponent, Frank Messersmith, answered he was undecided on the same issue. Otherwise, he also answered the 11 questions correctly.

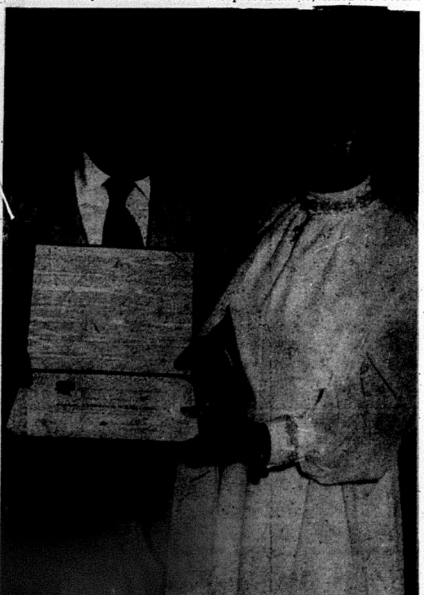

In the District 79 race, Democrat Eleanor Weinstein apparently knew less about agricultural issues than any other candidate who answered the questionnaire.

Mrs. Weinstein couldn't make up her mind about seven of the 11 questions, marking a undecided on the green belt law, the sales tax on feed, seed and fertilizer, the right-to-work law, Cesar Chavez' union, a law which would stop backpumping, the workmen's compensation law reforms and whether she favors teacher and student evaluation testing.

Mrs. Weinstein also said she is not in favor of an elected cabinet, although she noted that was a

MR. AND MRS. JOHN DULANY wound up their 57th wedding anniversary Monday night when Mr. Dulany received the coveted Paul Harris Fellowship from the Belle Glade Rotary Club. Only two of these awards have ever been given by the club, the other being granted posthumously to Mattie Taylor. Mr. Dulany has been active in the Rotary for almost as long as he and Mrs. Dulany have been married.

LIGHTS FOR THE BLIND will be sold to Belle Glade residents Wednesday when the Lions Club members go from door to door to sell light bulbs in their annual sale to assist the blind. Lion President Bill Schoenfeld (right) and Vice President Charles Ward (above) said the Lions will attempt to sell 76 cases of bulbs, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Local residents are being urged to turn on their porch lights in support of the sale and to let the Lions know where customers are located.

Opinion

CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

In last week's Belle Glade Herald, we ran a cartoon by Kenneth Brown depicting Glades Central's Johnny Rowe being held back by the Florida High School Activities Association. The caption had an official saying "Duh...the rule book says...uh...penalize Belle Glade team if it looks like it will become state champs."

We had a lot of comment from Belle Glade football folks over that cartoon. All of it, every bit, was agreeing with the cartoon and its thought.

Remembering back, there was a time when the Raiders felt they indeed had been beaten from the top berth by official edicts.

This year, some real lulus have been going down.

For instance, in Pahokee, Coach Antoine Russell had some things to say about the officiating in the Suncoast game, which Pahokee lost 14-10.

"I don't usually complain about officiating," he told the Everglades Observer, "but tonight I feel my boys were cheated out of a game."

Russell was upset over a goal-line stand late in the fourth period when the Blue Devils tried three times to advance a yard into paydirt. He claimed the Devils scored two of those three plays, but the officials didn't call the touchdown.

This week, Coach Ken Lassiter of the Christian Day Crusaders found himself in a unique situation when Ft. Myers Canterbury embarked on a 60-yard drive...all of it in penalties and without the first play being run. In the preceding play, two 15-yarders were called and 30 yards marched off, then each time the teams would line up, another penalty was called good for five yards until Canterbury was in prime field position.

The result was a Canterbury touchdown and after that, the Crusaders "went to pieces," said Lassiter. After that, Canterbury scored 38 points on the way to a 52-0 victory.

And at Glades Central this week, things looked pretty bright for the Raiders even though they racked up 156 yards in penalties.

On four separate plays, the Raiders were set back 15 yards, but each time back on the next play, coming at least up to the line of scrimmage.

But the dilly of the call this week has to go to the officials of the Glades Day-Gold Coast Game.

On a punt return, Jason Shelton raced down the field and into the end zone, but the touchdown was called back. The reason?

It seems Steve Richie ran along with Shelton, saw a Gold Coast player coming, and stopped in front of him. The would-be tackler was "interfering with" according to the call and the Gators penalized 15 yards.

Back when I was playing football, they called that blocking.

It is well known among football fans that on any given play in any given ball game, there occurs an infraction of the rules that could be called.

For the most part, officials use good judgement in making penalty calls. They're a dedicated bunch of men who try extra hard to be fair to both teams.

Everybody likes to second-guess officials. It's part of the game. Especially when your hometown team is the one being penalized.

And it's a sure bet you'll find more fault with the calls made against your team than you will with the opposition. It's only natural.

But you get to wondering when a man of Russell's coaching ability and caliber says, in print, that he has reason to question a call. Or when "interfering with the tackler" calls back a touchdown or a team is penalized 60 yards without a play being run.

And you wonder even more when the Florida High School Activities Association rules that because Belle Glade native Johnny Rowe was not considered eligible for the first couple of games, the Raiders had to forfeit them but that it's okay now for Rowe to play...after the forfeits threw the district championship race into a turmoil.

Paula Hawkins' snub

Pragmatic politics may have been the reason lieutenant governor candidate Paula Hawkins cancelled out Monday on her commitment to be the main speaker at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce's annual awards banquet tonight.

But those same pragmatic politics probably earned the Eckerd-Hawkins team few votes or friends here.

Mrs. Hawkins agreed to be the Chamber's speaker back in June, early enough for her to plan her schedule for this week but late enough to realize she could very well be in the middle of a hotly contested election.

Mrs. Hawkins' schedule calls for her to be in Pensacola from 7 to 7:30 p.m. and Mrs. Crane said she was told there is "no way" the candidate can be in Belle Glade at 8.

Whether the statement was made, the implication was clear. A half hour in the more populous Pensacola was worth more to the Eckerd-Hawkins effort than a couple of hours in Belle Glade.

And anyway it's examined, the action still comes up as a snub of Belle Glade...but apparently that's pragmatic politics. She made her choice.

And speaking of choices, Chamber President Dale Stapp's decision to stay away from politics in attempting to find another speaker was a sound one which should be appreciated by other members of the Chamber.

Show us!

option rather than quickly knuckle under or defy HUD.

HUD's demand was that the city repay immediately $16,636 embezzled last year by former Community Development Director George Gartner. The demand came shortly after Gartner's sentencing, part of which was to repay the funds.

Baker rightly pointed out that the funds were federal, not city, that the city may have no obligation in the matter or the authority to use city taxpayers' funds in this situation.

If HUD can wait more than a year for the courts to make a decision, surely a few more days won't make a difference.

Imagination

Last week we had a little fun at the Herald with some drug raids performed recently by the Belle Glade Police Department which had overtones of Mission Impossible.

The techniques used on the raids were bizarre to say the least but the point was, they worked.

They worked well enough to earn a letter of commendation from City Manager Robert Sanders for helping cut down on the drug traffic in Belle Glade.

The techniques, including stationing a man outside a second floor bathroom window to prevent suspects from flushing evidence down a commode and ripping a door off the hinges with a wrecker, allowing entry to the apartment within 35 seconds, were thought up by Detective T.M. Corderman.

Corderman's fertile imagination may be working on still other ideas to be used in future raids but if so, he isn't talking.

Besides imagination, recent drug raids by the Police Department were models of planning, resembling military operations with close timing and teamwork coordinated by Detective Lt. Michael Miller and Chief D. Bill Mathis.

All of which goes to prove you don't have to have a large organization as a prerequisite for excellence. Congratulations are due and hereby made.

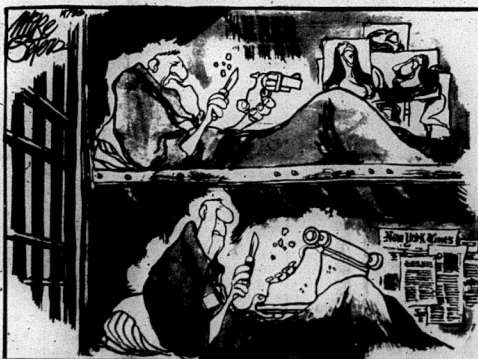

Manx are different from other breeds of cats because they are born tailless.

YOU KNOW KID, THINGS COULD BE WORSE - WE COULD HAVE BEEN STUCK IN HERE WITH A REPORTER...

Hot dog! It's that time of year again...time for my favorite small town festival, that is.

Moore Haven may have Cholo Nitka, LaBelle has the Swamp Cabbage Festival and Belle Glade now has the Black Gold Jubilee, or will when the first one takes place in March but only San Antonio has the Rattlesnake Festival and International Championship Gopher Race.

Huh uh, it ain't being held anywhere near the Alamo, this one's just west of Dade City. Actually, it's just west of Santo Leo in Pasco County, which must be a place where you can catch all kinds of rattlers and gophers.

Gophers and rattlers go together as any Minocran up St. Augustine way can tell you. Hum, gophers long enough and one of these days you're gonna stick your long stick with a hooked piece of clothes hanger on it down into a gopher hole and come up with a fightin' mad diamondback.

That's about the time you find out why Minocrans use six foot poles to go gopher huntin' instead of a short stick. And you don't even think of reaching into a gopher hole with your bare hand.

But if you want a piece of the action without going up on the ridge and beatin' your way through the palmetos pokin' your way through gopher holes, you always have the option of using Rent-A-Gopher.

Seems the 1974 championship was won by a rented gopher, which is all right I guess but it sounds something like Junior Johnson or Cale Yarborough winning the Daytona 500 in a Hertz car. Just doesn't ring.

I guess that would be better than going to Avis and coming in number two though.

Anyhow, back to the subject on hand, The International Championship Gopher Race draws about 12,000 people on Oct. 21 to watch what folks up Maryland way call terrapins, or yankees call "land turtles" run a 50 foot course "at breakneck speed."

At least it's breakneck speed for gophers (those yankees ain't gonna distort my thinking. I still call 'em croker sacks and lighter knits too).

The gophers this year have their work cut out for 'em though. If they wanna beat the world record set by the world-renowned Whizzer, they'll have to run the 50 feet in less than 24.2 seconds.

And if that isn't enough to satisfy the speed freaks, this time the Jaycees are gonna make a big addition. They're gonna hold a 4.4 mile foot race, not for gophers though, this one's for humans. Anybody can give it a whirl but don't think you're gonna finish the time skimming along on four legs like the gophers. You're gonna have to make it on two.

God only knows how long that one's gonna take and he ain't talking.

If speed ain't your bag, though, there's still some excitement you can get involved in. There's a $100 cash prize for the person bringing in the most Eastern Diamondback rattlers over three feet long, along with a pair of Russ's Snakeproof boots.

The winner of the contest gets to have the snake of his, or her, choice mounted free too.

Only question I have about the grand prize, though, or the $50 prize and a pair of Durango snakeproof boots, is that the boots should be coming along a tad late.

They might not be late for the winners but what about the poor soul that didn't even make an entry because his contest was cut short about the time he reached in to a gopher hole and whipped out the biggest rattler in the State of Florida?

Boots wouldn't do him a bit of good when he's already six feet under. That's deeper than the gophers or snakes would've been in their own hole.

There'll also be a lot of other things going on but personally, I think they're missing out on the best thing you can do with gopher, especially those who don't end up in the winner's circle.

Probably just comes from the time spent in St. Augustine...either that or my Uncle John, but I figure any gopher who doesn't wind up in the winner's circle should wind up in the stew pot.

Ain't nothing any more tasty than a good gopher stew. Matter of fact that's why the Minocrans go to all the trouble to catch 'em anyway.

New freight service in area

David M. Braggins, II, national sales executive for Smalley Transportation Company, Tampa, has announced the opening of a freight terminal in Clewiston which will serve an area from the Big Cypress Reservation, northward to the lake, eastward to and including Belle Glade, north and westward to include the greater Moore Haven area.

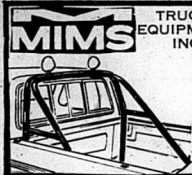

Smalley secured a temporary permit to operate in the area after South Florida Freightways folded and they are interested in securing a permanent permit from the Public Service Commission.

Smalley, prior to expanding their service to this area, was operating on Florida's west coast from Fort Myers to Tampa; across the mid-state belt including Orlando and Daytona and northward to include Jacksonville and Duval County. After Smalley received the temporary permit they expanded service to include Florida's east coast by opening terminals in West Palm Beach and Miami. While other lines have indicated an interest in securing a permanent permit for the heavy east coast freight traffic, none have indicated an interest in serving the great Lake Okechobee area other than Smalley.

The Clewiston terminal is being managed by Jim Charles and Hank Palmer. The terminal is located in the rear of the Trailways Bus Terminal in the building formerly occupied by Tamiami Freightways many years ago. Inter and intra state freight service is available. Those desiring additional information may call the Clewiston terminal at 983-6305.

ASCS ballots are mailed out

BELLE GLADE—Area farmers and farm operators qualified to take part in federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) programs are being urged to take part in the upcoming elections for the Community Committee from Nov. 24 to Dec. 4.

A list of the names of all persons to receive ballots is available in the Belle Glade ASCS office," said Mrs. Marie L. Wilkins, acting county executive director for the Palm Beach County ASC Committee.

Mrs. Wilkins said farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice for their respective communities; Belle Glade, Coastal or Pahokee.

A petition signed by three eligible voters is needed to nominate a farmer candidate. Petitions were mailed on Oct. 5 and were to be returned to the Belle Glade ASCS office by Oct. 10.

"The election of responsible, concerned farmers to positions on ASC county and community committees is important to all farmers," Mrs. Wilkins said.

Farm programs administered by the committees include Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), emergency conservation cost-sharing, farm storage facility and dryer loans, commodity price support loans and payments as well as others.

These programs are designed to stabilize farm resources, protect food and feed reserves and to balance supply and demand.

The farmer-elected committee system is the backbone of ASCS," Mrs. Wilkins said, "but it can lose its effectiveness if farmers fail to vote."

She said farmers who have any question about their eligibility to vote should call or visit the office to be sure their names are included on the list of voters.

Band trip to Orange Bowl is cancelled due to lack of funds

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee High School Marching Band's scheduled trip to the Orange Bowl has been cancelled due to financial limitations according to band director Ollie Davis, Jr.

The Pahokee band was one of 29 high school bands invited to the Orange Bowl when the University of Miami Hurricanes entertain the Utah State University football team in the second annual Band Day program, the Palm Beach Times reported Tuesday.

Davis said the trip was cancelled after the band was invited to the Florida Citrus Parade in Winter Haven this February.

"We went to Miami last year and wanted to go somewhere else for exposure," he said, explaining that the group did not have the money to make both trips, especially since additional uniforms will be needed next year to accommodate the band's growth.

Davis said the trip to the Florida Citrus Parade would be more beneficial to the band by putting the group in competition with bands in the northern part of the state.

Jones in NATO program

U.S. Forces, Germany (AHTNC) Oct. 13 — Pvt. Elisha Jones, son of Mrs. Dorothy Smith, 429 Sabal Court, Pahokee, is participating with other American and allied troops in REFORGER '78, NATO's largest yearly exercise, held in Germany.

More than 11,000 soldiers were flown to Germany and some 37,000 tons of equipment and supplies have been shipped from the U.S. for the massive exercise.

REFORGER (Return of Forces to Germany) results from a 1967 agreement between the U.S., United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany. The U.S. agreed to return stateside-based forces to Germany each year for exercises to demonstrate allied solidarity.

The entire exercise emphasizes the orderly disposition of forces and stressed deployment procedures and techniques.

Jones, a substance supplyman with the 503rd Supply and Transport Battalion in Hanau, Germany, entered the Army in February of this year.

Bystanders save two when car sinks in lake

The efforts of four citizens saved a 35-year-old Miami woman and her 12-year-old daughter from drowning when the woman's car slipped out of gear and rolled into Lake Okechobee at Pahokee Harbor.

Police officials said Clarence Leslie Jr. of Lakeland and Willie Jackson of Miami pulled Doris Miller and her daughter, Phyllis from her 1968 Buick sedan which was submerged near the city's covered boat dock. The men were assisted by Billy Alexander of Canal Point and former law enforcement officer Lynn Fine of Miami.

According to Lt. James E. Feltner of the Pahokee Police Department, the woman and her daughter had been sleeping in the car when it jumped, or was accidentally knocked out of "park". The car then rolled down the bank and submerged in about 10 feet of water.

Feltner said the incident was witnessed by bystanders who at first thought the vehicle was unoccupied because no one was in view. Leslie and Jackson went into the lake after they were alerted by the passengers' screams.

City dock manager Charles Jernigan then called the police department and an ambulance.

Feltner said the men had to break the car's rear window to get the occupants out. The young girl came out first and was not injured, he said.

However, the girl's mother was unconscious and had turned blue from lack of oxygen.

After getting her on the bank, the fourth rescuer, Fine, administered first aid to revive Mrs. Miller.

Feltner said Fine had revived the woman by the time the ambulance arrived. The woman and her daughter were then treated at the scene and released by the ambulance crew.

Feltner and Patrolman James Waggon conducted the subsequent investigation for the police department.

City Clerk Virginia Walker.

Lamb wasn't at the meeting but said Wednesday he had resigned because of internal tensions and pressures which were mounting to the point they had begun affecting his personal life.

"I'm tired of the hours and internal dissension," he said.

"They (other police officers) were used to doing things their own way and when I tried to put 'em on shift work and do things my way, they'd run to Commissioner Cox."

Lamb said he has already been employed by the Belle Glade Fire Department and would begin work there Monday.

Belle Glade Fire Chief A.E. "Pete" Webb confirmed Lamb's statement, saying he has had a good relationship in the past with Lamb. "He was one of the few police officers who could pitch in when there was a fire."

Webb said Lamb isn't qualified by Florida standards and would have to attend a 200 hour training course but he has already had five years experience as a firefighter in Mississippi.

Lamb was hired by the South Bay City Commission in March of this year, replacing former chief Willie Wisper Jr., who had been terminated after being convicted on two counts of possession of marijuana with intent to sell.

Lamb was at that time manager of Royal's Furniture Store. He served on the Belle Glade Police Department for more than eight years on two different occasions.

In his letter of resignation, Ford cited the, "Innerdepar-ment (sic) relationship, there are some things (sic) in the department in (sic) which I can not continue to work with and it is prejudice (sic) of the people in the department. There is also a lack of leadership."

On pay, Ford said, "Maybe it is not important to you but I take the matter very sincere, considering I as an (sic) Police officer indanger (sic) my life on the line every single day that I am on duty. I feel that the City of South Bay and no one else could pay enough money to value the cost of my life."

Commissioner Cox, saying she has always thought Collins was an outstanding young man, asked Collins and Ford to hold their letters for "a couple of days" until a meeting could be held.

Commissioner Woodrow "Woody" O'Neal echoed Mrs. Cox' request and the two officers agreed to hold up their decisions until Mrs. Cox can set up a meeting.

Mayor Wells, when he was interviewed Wednesday, said he didn't believe Lamb's resignation would affect his feelings about the resignations of Collins and Ford, because, "I'm not going to allow anyone to give me an ultimatum, and that's what they were doing."

Planned Parenthood makes war

PAHOKEE - Children by choice, not by chance.

"That is the motto of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, which recently opened an office in Belle Glade at 9 West Avenue A.

Mrs. Judy Okley, associate director of the Belle Glade facility, told local Rotarians at their Thursday meeting that the organization is a private corporation funded national- and world-wide by individuals, companies and clinic fees.

A couple of the larger donors in the Glades area have included Wedworth's Inc. and the United States Sugar Corporation.

One of the chief goals of the federation is to "try to make a dent in the teenage pregnancy rate in America," Ms. Okley said.

"Girls are becoming sexually active at an earlier age now," she said. As a result, about 25 percent of the women receiving maternity care at Belle Glade hospital are 15 years-old. And that figure does not take into account girls who get pre-natal care from private physicians or clinics, or no prenatal care at all.

Consequently, "it is assumed that the adolescent pregnancy rate is much higher than that," Ms. Okley said.

Much of the planned parenthood program is devoted to education in sexuality. Counselors work with schools, churches, parents and individuals to provide information and advice on birth control and human relations. Counseling is provided for problem pregnancies.

"We always stress abstinence as the best way to avoid problem pregnancies," Ms. Okley said. But not all youths will go that route, and for them, some type of contraceptive is recommended.

The planned parenthood center will sell condoms to those desiring them.

Although the Belle Glade center does not have a clinic as of yet, the organization nationally provides such services as pregnancy testing, voluntary sterilization, abortion and infertility therapy. The organization is often involved in community health programs, expanding into such activities as testing for venereal disease, testing for sickle cell anemia, special teen clinics, counseling in post-partum wards, staff support to hospitals and clinics, and training programs for nurses and public health workers.

Mrs. Okley said she hopes to have a clinic in Belle Glade sometime within the next couple of years. In the meantime, clients are referred to health department physicians.

Adolescents desiring the services of the Planned Parenthood Federation do not need the consent of parents, she explained. And the federation does not have to notify parents to provide services to youths.

"We need more (sex) education, and to make contraceptives more accessible," Ms. Okley said, explaining that it is the only way to avoid the rising rate of teenage pregnancies.

Teenage pregnancies cost the taxpayers money and endanger the lives of young mothers and their offspring, she said.

"Babies born to adolescent women are two to three times more likely to die in their first year (than are those born to women age 20 or older)," Ms. Okley explained.

"(Those babies) are also more likely to have health problems."

The mortality rate for women bearing children is 60 percent higher for teenagers, she said.

From an economic standpoint, pregnant teenagers increase unemployment because many drop out of school, do not learn a skill and cannot get a job. They also increase the population and create family problems, the assistant family planning director said.

Teenage marriages, particularly involving children are two to three times as likely to fail as a non-teenage marriage.

Although most problems with teenage pregnancies in the past have been with the poor, more must be done now to prevent it at all economic levels, Ms. Okley said.

"Kids just grow up faster now

She noted that most of the youths requesting planned parenthood are 15, 16, and 17 year olds. "The youngest person we've seen at a clinic in Palm Beach County was 12, she said.

Mrs. Okley added that parents can help by telling their children the sexual facts of life, and about contraceptives.

She said that the Planned Parenthood Federation of America has been involved in sex education since 1916. The program was started in Palm Beach County in 1972.

It is an organization which is the U.S. representative of the 79-member International Planned Parenthood Federation, which supports the development of educational and medical programs in more than 100 countries.

In the United States, the Planned Parenthood Federation has about 700 clinics, Ms. Okley said.

The word "cheerful" is said to come from the Latin word, meaning "face."

Pahokee harbor dredging project halted by commission

City workers were thwarted Monday by the Game and Freshwater Fish Commission in their efforts to clear gravel out from in front of the seawall at Pahokee harbor.

According to Mayor Duncan Padgett, the city hired a dragline operator to deepen the harbor in front of a seawall built by the Port of Palm Beach so larger boats could dock there. The work was to have been completed over the weekend, but was not finished.

Early Monday Padgett said he received a call from Bart Crawford of the Game and Freshwater Fish Commission to halt the digging until a permit was obtained.

Padgett said the city had dug out the boat basin two times before without a permit, and that he had the spoken permission of U.S. Army Corps of Engineer officials to do it.

Director of Utilities Bill Cross said the city would probably need three permits to continue the digging: one from the Department of Environmental Regulation, one from the South Florida Flood Control District, and one from the Corps of Engineers.

As of press time Wednesday, city officials had not resolved the matter.

Belle Glade balks at demand by HUD for embezzled funds

BELLE GLADE—The City Commission continued to balk Monday at a demand by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development that the city immediately compensate HUD for $16,636 embezzled last year.

Former Belle Glade Community Development Director George Gartner pled no contest last year when he was charged with misappropriating the funds and part of his sentence last month was to repay the amount.

City Attorney John Baker advised the commissioners in a workshop session Monday night, however, that he had been able to find no legal justification for the city to assume responsibility in the matter.

The commissioners directed current Community Development Director Remar Harvin to contact HUD officials and ask what legal obligation is held by the city in the matter and, should the city decide to make good the $16,636, whether there is any flexibility which would allow the city to pay it over a period of time.

In the meantime, City Manager Robert R. Sanders is to procure a copy of the judgement in Gartner's case made by Judge Carl Sanders.

Mayor Tom Altman and some of the other commissioners said they felt the city should have been sent copies of the judgement without asking.

Altman said he felt someone, whether it be the judge, the state attorney's office or the clerk of the court, should have kept the city informed all along on progress of the case.

Commissioner Claude Tindall and Baker said however, none of the three offices have an obligation to voluntarily inform the city of what transpires in the courtroom, although the city can buy a transcript.

Altman said he had received a letter from Judge Harper commenting on remarks Altman had made in a commission meeting which had been reported in the press. The judge asked Altman in the letter to send him a copy of the minutes from the Oct. 9 commission meeting.

In other action in the workshop, the commission:

Ranked a short list of applications for the city's consulting engineering firm. The ranking will determine in what order the applying firms begin negotiations with the commission.

The ranking is, Briley, Wild and Associates Inc., Reynolds, Smith and Hill second and Barker, Osha and Anderson in the number three slot.

The commissioners decided several weeks ago to drop Barker, Osha and Anderson, the current consulting firm, because of a conflict of interests caused by the firm's representing both the city and the Solid Waste Authority in a project to set up a Glades-wide solid waste disposal facility and both the city and the county, as well as South Bay and Pahokee, in the area 201 waste water pollution control plan.

There were a total of nine engineering firms applying for the position. Briley, Wild and Associates served as the city's firm before Barker, Osha and Anderson were retained. Whichever firm the city hires, the commissioners and Sanders seem determined it would be on the condition an engineer be on hand for several days a month.

Reviewed comments made in three public hearings on a package of three ordinances rewriting or setting up zoning, subdivision and development codes.

Agreed to allow the Belle Glade Airport to be used by a movie company to shoot scenes for the upcoming movie, "The Pilot". The film, starring Montgomery Clift will be partially shot here and in Pahokee at the end of November.

Local youths take babysitting course

"You're in charge."

With these words, a first group of local youngsters was introduced to the fundamentals of common sense responsibility in the care of small children.

The two session training course held October 2 and 9 at Everglades Memorial Hospital focused on the basics of "keeping cool" and proper safety procedures.

Mrs. Sandra Jarriel, a local school instructor, communicated what parents expect of babysitters in the way of dependability and reasonable care.

R.O. Shackford, director of Pahokee Ambulance Services, instructed fundamental first aid for choking, poisoning, cuts and burns, while Dale Milita provided practical tips on fire prevention and control. The youngsters operated standard fire extinguishers and practiced other fire smothering techniques using blankets and readily available kitchen items that could be lifesavers.

Course coordinator Maxine Moon, along with Carolyn Milita, reviewed diapering, feeding and proper ways of holding infants. The participants underwent an oral test to reinforce the course high points and received a certificate of accomplishment.

A repeat of the course is scheduled for the evenings of November 6 and 13 at the hospital. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Moon or Mrs. Milita at 924-5201.

Jubilee activities fee set

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Black Gold Jubilee Committee moved last week to set a fee of 10 percent of net profits earned by activities officially sanctioned by the committee for the celebration next March.

The committee consensus was that "officially sanctioned" would mean all those activities advertised by the committee and carried in news releases as things scheduled to take place during the celebration.

The money is meant to be used to help offset expenses of activities which aren't expected to earn money but which are being planned for the celebration Mar. 22 and 23, 1979.

Should there be a surplus after expenses are paid, that surplus would be used the next year as seed money to begin the Black Gold Jubilee.

In other action, the committee decided to ask Glades Central High School Harry Bloomquist's Commercial Arts class to design a seal to be used by the committee on letterhead stationery and in advertising.

DALE MILITA instructs local youths on the proper use of a fire extinguisher during a recent babysitting course held at Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee.

Sellers-Woods repeat vows

BELLE GLADE—Miss Terri Ann Sellers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Phillips of 93 Runyon Village in Belle Glade, became the bride of Michael L. Woods, son of Mrs. Mary Frances Woods of Fort Lauderdale, in a double ring candlelight ceremony at the Belle Glade Alliance Church in a ceremony by the Rev. Mark O'Farrell.

Miss Darlene Nance was the organist and her musical selections included "The Wedding Prayer", "We've Only Just Begun" and several others.

The altar table was decorated with the Holy Bible and was centered with a large basket of blue and white chrysanthemums, pom poms, maidenhair fern and white and blue carnations. The altar-wall bronze cross was illuminated with the three-piece standing spiral candelabra with pastor's arch candelabra which were entwined with branches of greenery and white miniature pom poms. Large green lady palms were on each end of the prayer altar bench, with a bouquet of blue and white pom poms, mums and carnations arrangement on the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Jerry Phillips. She wore a gown of English illusion layered over organza, featuring a full-gathered A-line skirt with tapered cathedral length train edged with deep, daisy-brimmed hemline ruffle. The bodice was accented with a shoulder and neck cathedral window yoke of daisy floral cut-out shape. The cameo neckline was necklaced with a cluster-bouquet of daisy appliques forming maypole pinwheel petals of seedpearl streamers, completing the pattern, which was scalloped-edged ribboned raindrop eyelet. The upper shoulder sections of the puffed illusion Juliet sleeves ended in fitted Elizabethan ruffled cuffs at the wrist tips.

The bridal veil (something borrowed) belonging to her sister, Tammy Spell, was worn by Terri and accented the gown. The veil was a fingertip length of nylon illusion and edged with English daisy patterned lace, was gathered to a Juliet cap of seedpearls with English rose applique.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, white mums with two large white cymbidium orchids in the center with maidenhair fern and satin curls.

Tina Lynn Sellers, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a floor-length white gown with blue dotted Swiss organza layered over silk, full A-line skirt with deep lace ruffle hemline, trimmed with satin blue eyelet with a blue satin tie-sash. Her hairpiece was a flora crown tiara of white baby's breath. She carried a sphere bouquet of white and blue carnations, mums and pom poms with maidenhair fern with white satin streamers.

Tanya D. Sellers, sister of the bride, was the receptionist at the bride's book. She wore a floor-length gown of blue mist qiana, with matching lace jacket and a corsage of blue and white carnations and pom poms.

Kenneth Young was the best man and Fred Cline was the groomsmen. They wore pastel blue tuxedos with navy velvet tie and trim.

Nicki Rushing was the flower girl. She wore a floor-length gown with triple-gathered full yokes of ruffles with lace trim of blue and white dotted Swiss mist organza, with blue satin sash bow. Her headpiece was a crown of white baby's breath. She carried an old-fashioned wicker basket of blue and white pom poms, carnations and baby's breath fern.

Sonny Rives, the ringbearer, carried a white satin pillow trimmed with lilies of the valley. He was dressed the same as the groomsmen and best man.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of navy blue with navy blue floral cape. She carried ribboned satin curls of white mums, blue pom poms and lace fern.

The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of powder mist blue qiana with a cameo keyhole bodice. Her corsage was white satin curls with white and blue pom poms and Fuji mums.

Tammy K. Spell, sister of the bride, and Sandra Rives, aunt of the bride, coordinated the reception and food service. Decorations and flowers were by the Rose Petal Florist and the wedding ceremony was under the direction of Mrs. Mark O'Farrell.

Assisting and serving at the reception were Tammy Kay Spell, Sandra Rives, Gay Hardy Godwin, Angela Rives, Sandy Leeman, Tina Sellers, J.D. Stevens and Jeanette Kelly.

The bride's table was decorated with a tissue paper silk blue overlay linen with white satin bows and streamer corners. A floral centerpiece with eight-branch candelabra with crystal globes and candles held white and blue pom poms, lilies of the valley, carnations to the left of the wedding cake.

The wedding cake was three tiered with blue and white roses, white doves, sugar lace bells, with lilies of the valley trim holding a miniature gazebo with bride and groom-dolls under a lace bell cluster. Blue and white pom poms with maidenhair fern circled the Fostoria crystal punch bowl.

A bouquet of white mums and blue chrysanthemums centered the food service table which had a large chocolate groom's cake with blue and white roses with a reluctant groom doll fleeing a bride doll who has hold of his coat-tails. The sandwich trays were to the left and right, with crystal shells of nuts and mints, accented with a white lace table cloth over blue rayon banquet table cloth. A large sculptured glass punch bowl within a circle of fern and mums and blue pom poms was located near the silver hors d'oeuvre trays.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL WOODS

The couple spent a week touring various Florida tourist attractions in Orlando and central Florida and the Keys before turning to their home in Fort Lauderdale. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Burl Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. John Sellers of Key Largo, Fred Cline, Kenneth Young, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Barnes and Billy Young, all of Canal Point, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, Debbie and Greg Woods, Mrs. Adele Robinson, all of Fort Lauderdale, Darlene Nance of Canal Point, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Rives, Mr. and Mrs. James Norvin Rives, Angela, Jamie and Sonny Rives of Clewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bestwick of Pahokee, Mary Frances Woods of Fort Lauderdale and Patty McLeod of South Bay.

Junior Women induct three

BELLE GLADE—The Belle Glade Junior Womens Club met Oct. 10, at the home of Marsha Oren.

A total of 15 members, seven guests and the sponsor were present.

Members present were Cindy Baez, Nancy Brooks, Susan Cassidy, Sandra Chamblee, Dixie Evans, Gina Farley, Melody James, Adel Kimbro, Carol Lamb, Suzanne Munter, Marsha Oren, Charla Sizemore, Jennilee Threlkeld, Sherry Throop, and Linda Weathers.

Guests present were Cheryl Frazier, Debbie Freeman, Pat Grieve, Dianne Miller, Flora Perez, Donna Throop, and Becky Wedgeworth. Our sponsor June Mowen was also present.

The Arts Department held a cookie swap. About 25 different groups of cookies were exchanged.

Gina Farley had the program and gave a demonstration of macrame.

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 14 at the home of Jennilee Threlkeld with a program on education.

Outstanding women are sought

Glades area organizations who think they know one or more outstanding women are being encouraged to submit names by the Palm Beach County Commission on the Status of Women in seven categories so they can be recognized.

The commission is sponsoring an awards luncheon at noon Nov. 18 at the Helen Wilkes Hotel in West Palm Beach.

"For too long the fantastic jobs that are being done by women throughout the county have been largely unrecognized," said Betty French, awards chairperson of the luncheon. "We want to give credit to outstanding women in all facets of life."

For that reason, Ms. French said, seven categories of awards have been set up, including arts, literature and music; entertainment and sports; industry and business; education and research; government and law; community involvement and health and social welfare.

"These are broad categories," she said, "but our aim is simply to highlight women in some of many areas of daily living. This is not in the nature of competition, for there may well be many more talented women in every field. It is simply to call attention to a few of the women."

She said that if the venture is successful, it is hoped it will become an annual event.

Ms. French said any organization with more than 20 members is eligible to nominate women for any or all categories.

Entries should be accompanied by a cover letter from the organization president explaining who the nominee is and why she should be considered and in which category.

A biographical sketch of 300-400 words, including titles, honors or awards and educational degrees, plus names and dates, address and telephone number and place of business should be submitted, along with a letter from a person in the same field of endeavor supporting the candidate, should be submitted prior to Nov. 1.

Entries should be made to: Suzanne Fogel, coordinator; Palm Beach County Commission on the Status of Women; 205 Datura St. Suite 300; West Palm Beach 33401.

Ms. French said tickets for the luncheon should cost about $6 and all nominees should attend because winners won't be announced in advance.

Olga Hayes, a Glades area member of the commission, said she felt it important that area residents realize the commission has no affiliation with the Equal Rights Amendment or organizations supporting it. "The purpose of the commission," Mrs. Hayes said, "is to study concerns of women, making a recommendation or advising the Palm Beach County Commission on these matters."

"The commissioners appointed to this board," she said, "are concerned with the public misinterpretation that there is a link between the organization and the ERA."

JUNIOR VARSITY RAIDERS, with three more games left in their season, have built a 4-1 record so far this year. Head coach Melvin Lockett, shown in the picture with assistant coach Chris Logan and CETA volunteer John Banks and Robert Hart, said some of the outstanding players who've helped carve out the four victories have been quarterback Leonard Camel, his favorite wide receiver, Jessie Hester on offense and on defense, linebackers Michael Stinson and Jimmy McClorin, safety Oscar Harvey, defensive tackle Eddie Jones and kicker Wendell Grantlin.

Raiders romp over Pace

Miami-Johnny Rowe ran for 205 yards in 19 carries and a touchdown Saturday afternoon to set up Glades Central's first non-conference victory over Miami Pace to extend the Raider's win streak to five for the year.

The 19-14 score was no more indicative of the Raider's dominance over Pace than their "official" 3-2 record of the season is indicative of their unbeaten-untied ways on the football field.

Glades Central runners rushed for a total of 344 yards and quarterback Terry Hammond passed for another 42 yards in the air. Both teams fumbled twice but the team statistic which accounted for the tight score was the number of yards penalized. Pace had 80 yards marched off against the Miami team and the Raiders had to relinquish 155 yards to the stripe-shirts.

The Raiders' non-conference victory over Pace and the Miami officials came the afternoon after the Atlantic Eagles, capitalizing on a game awarded them by Floyd Lay, officiation from Gainesville, which the lost on the field to Glades Central, 21-6, clinched the 14-AA title.

Raider Coach Ben McCoy said that was all behind the football team now, however, and they shouldn't let Lay's forfeiture of the Raiders' first two games affect their play in the future.

"They could have an unbeaten season," McCoy said, "even if they have lost the district championship."

Of the Raiders' performance in Miami, McCoy said he was satisfied with the defensive line but other parts of the team's performance could stand improvement.

"We couldn't contain their passing game," he said. The Pace quarterback hit on 10 of his 26 attempts to keep Pace in the ball game and McCoy pointed out the Miami team was unable to score on the ground.

"We've only had one touchdown scored on us on the ground all year," he said. "The other four were in the air." He said he's been satisfied with the defensive line's performance all season.

On the offensive line, Coach McCoy said the Raiders are hitting but they aren't following through. Standout players he cited, besides Rowe, were Hammond, Archie Godfrey, who he referred to as a "hard-luck runner" who gets called back every time he makes a long run or a score, and on defense, Leon Sadley and Hector Santana.

An indication of the time the Raider offense controlled the ball and the number of passes made by Pace is that Sadley led the defense with only six tackles and four assists, while the leading tacklers virtually always have more than 10 tackles.

Following Sadley were Willie Gibson with five tackles and four assists, Chris Ellick with four tackles, Freddie Garrett and Randy Burden, each with three and three and Santana and Wilford Morgan with three and two.

On offense, Rowe ran 19 times for 205 yards and one touchdown, Archie Godfrey ran seven times for 68 yards, and Hammond ran six times for 60 yards, completed two of 9 passes attempted for 42 yards and another TD.

Greg Bain ran once for 11 yards and caught one of three passes for 24 yards and a touchdown. Jeff Henderson caught one of five passes for 18 yards.

Rowe was the first Raider to score, taking the ball on a 70-yard romp in the first quarter into the end zone. The PAT kick failed and the Raiders led, 6-0.

In the second period, Bain caught a 24-yard pass good for the Raider's second score and the Raiders went into the half with a 12-7 lead.

Pace was the only team to score in the third quarter, earning them a 14-12 lead going into the fourth period.

Hammond scored in the final period on an 18-yard run and Morgan kicked the extra point to give the Raiders their final, 19-14 edge.

McCoy said the Raiders face Hallandale this weekend at Fort Lauderdale Stadium in Fort Lauderdale for another non-conference game.

Devils splash to 26-0 win

PAHOKEE-October is traditionally the time when one watches "for things that go bump in the night," but Friday night it was watching for things that went "splash" was the Pahokee Blue Devils walloped Fort Pierce Westwood, 22-6 on a rain-soaked muddy field.

The Devils were led by Osmond Edwards who scored two touchdowns, made two interceptions and recovered two fumbles. Pahokee's other touchdown was scored by Sylvester Kelly, who led the team's rushing efforts with 96 yards.

Edwards caught his first scoring pass from quarterback Ronnie Osborne near the end of the first quarter, giving the Devils a 6-0 lead. Neither team scored for the rest of the first half of the game.

The second half led off with a quick scoring exchange from the two teams. Westwood started off with an 80-yard runback on the kickoff.

But the Blue Devils retaliated with a 34-yard scoring pass from Osborne to Edwards on Pahokee's first play after the kickoff.

The Blue Devils' final score came on an 80-yard run by Kelly.

According to Pahokee coach Antoine Russell, Sam Owens was the second highest rusher in the game with 36 yards. Osborne came in third with 20.

Defensively, Frank Walker led the team with five unassisted tackles and four assists.

Russell also commended Edwards and Larry Barnes for the jobs they did on defense.

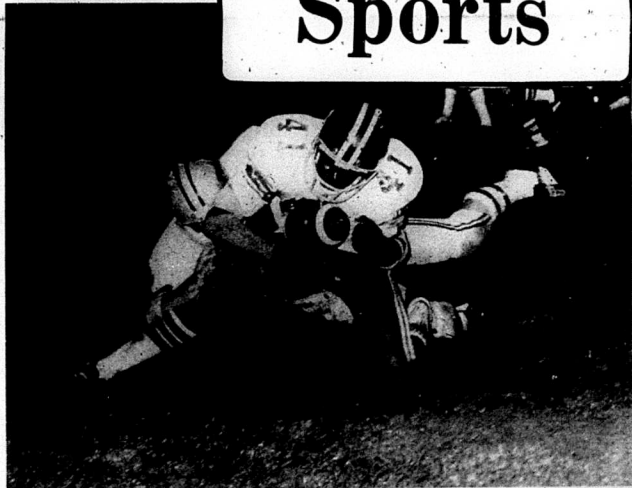

"We had an exceptionally good defense," he said. "It's what kept us in the ball game," he explained, nothing that the team offensive efforts were weak despite some good punt returns by Leonard Jones.

The wet ground and mud left when contractors installed the new lights and bleachers confined the Blue Devils game to the ground for the most part, Russell said.

The Blue Devils do not play Friday, but will meet the LaBelle Cowboys in LaBelle on October 27.

Russell said LaBelle plays a passing game and will be looking to upset Pahokee in a hard game.

SYLVESTER KELLY led Pahokee's offense in Friday night's game against Fort Pierce Westwood with 96 rushing yards. Here, he got shot down midway down the field on one of the Blue Devil's scoring drives.

Glades Day demolishes Gold Coast 21-0

BELLE GLADE-The Glades Day Gators scored in one of the four quarters, completely dominating Gold Coast Christian, to win in 21-0 Saturday night and advance their season record to 4-1.

And the Gators would have scored another touchdown had not a penalty been assessed against them for interfering with the tackler.

In the first quarter, the Gators got the ball deep in their own territory and burned up the clock with a bruising ground game that consumed almost the entire quarter.

They lost the ball on downs on the Christian 15, but got it back shortly afterward when Gold Coast

With possession again, the Gators wasted little time in forcing their drive to the six, from where Nacho Bueno rolled out and burst through on a quarterback sneak for six points.

Mark Foster tackled on the extra point, the first of three he hit for the evening, and the Gators kicked off. Again, Gold Coast punted and Jason Shelton made the catch, running it back to the end zone but having the play nullified by the penalty.

Coach Byron Walker said the penalty was called on Steve Richie, who stopped in front of a would-be tackler and prevented him from catching Shelton.

At the half, the Gators led 7-0 and following the break, accepted the kickoff and drove 65 yards to the three, where Basil Markham was called upon to do the honors.

In the fourth quarter, the Gators drove from deep inside their own territory, eating up six minutes of the clock before reaching the p line. Shelton got the touchdown on a five yard run.

On offense, Walker said he was real pleased with his backs, who put in their best effort of the season. The Gators fumbled only once during the game and Richie was the leading gainer with 65 yards.

The head coach said the interior line was creating problems during the first half but that by the second, those problems had been straightened out. The Gators missed one scoring opportunity, said Walker, that should not have been missed.

Bueno passed seven times for three completions and 19 yards.

He was intercepted once, but Christian turned the ball right back over to the Gators on a fumble.

On defense, Walker said Richie had an interception, and Markham and Doug Tanner each recovered a fumble. Ken Strickland and Markham had seven tackles apiece and Tanner had six.

Saturday night at Longwood Stadium in Fort Pierce, the Gators take on John Carroll at 8:00, an AA team and a club Walker says will be looking to win the game.

Carroll is 1-4 for the season, but

Walker said they are playing a tough schedule and beat Kings worse than did Glades Day for their only victory this year.

He expects about the same kind of play Carroll has shown against the Gators in the past, good basic, and physical football. "They've been having depth problems," said Walker, "but they're always good and physical."

Glades Day, with the Gold Coast win, is now 2-1 in district play and the race for the district championship has become more confused than ever.

"We're under the gun every week now," said Walker. "Our main problem is keeping our players up for each game. We just don't know how long they can hold out under this kind of pressure."

Walker said the best chance Glades Day has of becoming district champs is to beat Miami Westminster in two weeks, therefore throwing the district into a three-way tie between the Gators, Westminster and Benjamin.

If that happened, the championship would be decided by vote of the district and Walker said he hoped the Gators could get the votes needed to allow them to go on to the regional playoffs.

"We just had a terrible night against Benjamin," said Walker in discussing the district race, "and they had a great one. I still believe the Gators are the best team in the district."

Penalized 60 yards without a play being run

Christian Day Crusaders lose to Canterbury 52-0

FORT MYERS—Though the Christian Day Crusaders were able to pretty much hold them at bay in the first half, Fort Myers Canterbury exploded for 38 points in the second and wound up the victors 52-0.

The Crusaders managed to penetrate down to the Canterbury five during the first half, but a wide-open receiver dropped the ball and the scoring try failed. After the second half, which ended 14-0 in the Canterbury favor,

Coach Ken Lassiter said his team "went to pieces."

The impetus seemed to be, said Lassiter, when Christian Day was fined 60 yards without a play being run. On the preceding play, the Crusaders collected two separate 16-yarders which cost them 30 yards altogether, then as the teams would line up to run a play, flags would fly and more yardage would be marked off.

The 60-yard penalty drive resulted in the third Fort Myers score of the evening and Canterbury went on from there.

Lassiter said his bright spots for the game included Kent Davis, who amassed 124 yards in 21 carries and two youngsters, Bill Hancock and Scotty McCroan, who did good jobs as reserve half-backs and combined to prevent another touchdown on defense.

Matt McCall also saved a touchdown in the fourth quarter, said Lassiter.

This Saturday at 4, the Crusaders take on Ft. Lauderdale Christian in Ft. Lauderdale.

Since Ft. Lauderdale whipped Canterbury 28-14, Lassiter said he expects it to be a tough game.

Raider runners win two meets

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central cross country team won a dual meet in Pahokee and turned around two days later to take first place in a meet with six other teams.

The Raiders beat out the Pahokee Blue Devils in a two-way meet in Pahokee last Tuesday by a score of 24-32.

Running the three miles in 17:48 was enough to put Robert O'Neal in the second place slot. Bobby Brereton placed fourth with a time of 18:20, Patrick Raymond placed fifth in 18:59, Levell Moreland placed sixth in 19:10, Richard Ford placed seventh in 19:20 and Renard Bennett was 13th.

Last Thursday, the member-schools of Suncoast Conference-West held a meet at John Prince Park in Lake Worth which coach Willie McDonald said was a warmup for the conference championship meet today.

The running Raiders placed first with 26 points over Atlantic, Cardinal Newman, Jupiter, Suncoast, North Shore and Fort Pierce Westwood.
